

SEE POLITICS IN REVIVAL OF BLAINE'S BILL

Conservative Wing to Back New Initiative and Referendum Measure.

CATLIN TO ASSAIL BLAINE

Veto of Appropriations for Game Conservation Arouses His Ire.

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—A new joint resolution providing for initiative and referendum to replace the resolution killed in the senate last week will be introduced in the state senate shortly by Senator George B. Skogmo, it became known Tuesday.

The resolution will come from the conservative section of the senate. This wing killed the Hubert joint resolution last week, because they said, its provisions were too broad.

The Skogmo resolution calling for a constitutional amendment, will limit the initiative and referendum to legislative action only.

Some politics is seen in the move, according to members of the senate. The Hubert bill had the backing of the Blaine administration and its defeat at the hands of the senate conservatives, placed an effective campaign weapon in the hands of the governor, it is claimed.

The conservatives now propose to remove the initiative and referendum as an issue in the next campaign by passing the resolution which limits the initiative and referendum to legislative action.

Catlin Arms Himself

Governor Blaine's veto of the conservation commission emergency appropriation of $30,000 created a sensation in the assembly Tuesday and on the motion of Assemblyman Mark Catlin, conservative floor leader, was placed on Thursday's calendar. It is understood Catlin is preparing a speech on the subject of the veto and will take the governor to task. Catlin will take the assembly, he indicated Tuesday, that the emergency appropriation, numbering 30,000, paid money to the state for the protection of game and while the state withheld this protection it was obtaining money without cost.

The assembly advanced the Matheon bill which permits the secretary of state to name a cashier for his office without attention to the civil service clause. The bill was approved after a brief explanation and without objection. Commissioner John Hazelwood of the civil service commission, denounced the bill in committee as an attempt to destroy civil service by inserting an opening wedge.

Because of small attendance the senate put over most of its calendar until Thursday. The count roll which permits voters to serve on juries was advanced to third reading, without objection.

The Hubert bill giving surviving widows a dower one-third of the estate outright instead of one-third for life, was passed by the senate and the house simultaneously and goes to the governor for approval.

The Titus bill creating a municipal court for Fond du Lac was ordered en grossed.

The assembly meets at 7:30 o'clock tonight to debate the marketing bill recommended by the state division of markets. It will meet as a committee of the whole and division of markets men will be called for explanation of certain features of the measure.

DRIVE 8,000 REDS FROM BERLIN MILL

Berlin.—German police Tuesday drove 3,000 communists from the big Leuna works near Essen, killing a number of Reds and taking 1,000 prisoners.

Minister of Safety Severing said the communist "army" which has been drilling behind the factory walls, offered little resistance.

Severing said the communists in the Leuna works had nearly 1,000 rifles but that they made little use of the weapons, surrendering after the first rush of the police, in which a number fell mortally wounded while many others were slightly injured.

The communists had hoped to operate the plant for some time, emulating the Italians who occupied factories in Italy last fall.

In Berlin the situation was improved, although guards remained on duty and machine guns were mounted at strategic points.

SUE SHERIFF BECAUSE HE RELEASED PRISONER

Minneapolis, Minn.—Sheriff Earle Brown "slipped" when he released Frank E. Nemes of Chicago, to a Windy city detective, attorneys for Nemes asserted Tuesday.

They filed suit for $200,000 against Brown and his bondsmen. Brown was accused of "wrongfully, maliciously and unlawfully" disregarding a stay of proceedings in Nemes' case obtained in the supreme court. Nemes was taken back to Chicago to face charges of embezzlement. The Chicago detective staged a race against time by taking his prisoner out of the state in an automobile.

ORDER COAL NOT AVOID A SHORTAGE

Indianapolis, Ind.—A coal shortage in the early fall and next winter is "as sure as fate," unless private and public consumers start placing their orders now, Ellis Searls, editor of the United Mine Workers' Journal, warned Tuesday.

A similar warning was voiced by John L. Lewis, international president of the miners' union.

Both Searls and Lewis said unless the market opens up now, there will be a rush of orders at the first cold snap next winter and it will be impossible to supply all the demands. The mines are now being operated at less than 50 per cent of normal, because orders are not being received.

"The miners can dig just as much coal per week," Searls said. "The miner can produce just so much and the railroads can handle just so much and no more. There is a limit to the amount of coal that can be supplied the consumer. When the demand for any particular week or month exceeds the limit there will not be enough to supply everybody. That's why I say the people should buy coal now when they can get it."

GEORGIA WHITES TRYING TO STIR UP RACE RIOTING

Finding of Bodies of Blacks on Slave Plantation Creates Sensation.

By United Press Leased Wire
Covington, Georgia.—Preparations for starting an immediate investigation were being made Tuesday by the Newton county grand jury of an alleged plot to arrange Negroes against white residents as a climax to the unearthing of a "death farm" on John S. Williams' plantation near here.

Decision to present the matter to the grand jury followed receipt of threatening notes by white people, warning them to beware of a Negro uprising, officials stated.

Persistent reports in circulation here tell of an alleged confession, said to have been made by a white man revealing a plot through which public opinion would be turned against the Negroes in an effort to aid the cause of Williams, who is expected to be placed on trial here for the alleged murder of Negro farm hands on his plantation.

While no official announcement has been made of the confession said to have been given officers, it was charged Tuesday that the notes informing white citizens that the Negroes would attempt to "wipe out several sections of the country" were sent to arouse resentment against the blacks.

The situation, both in Jasper and Newton counties, was quiet Tuesday, notwithstanding continued circulation of inflammatory rumors.

Published reports that the death toll on Williams' alleged slave farm would reach thirty were branded as "utterly false" Tuesday by officials of Jasper and Newton counties.

While several Negroes on Williams' estate have not been accounted for, it is believed they escaped, Sheriff Johnson of Newton county, stated.

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Paul.—The City Bank of St. Paul was held up and robbed by five armed, unmasked men at 1:30 Tuesday.

They escaped in a Buick touring car.

The bandits carried with about $40,000, according to "cashier" C. F. Kahle, who was beaten over the head with revolvers and badly injured. His brother, a bookkeeper, also was beaten. Three customers were in the bank at the time.

DROP DEPORTATION OF LORD MAYOR OF CORK

Washington.—The effort to deport Donal O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, begun soon after he landed in this country as a stowaway, has been dropped.

Officials of both the labor and state departments which originally took part in the O'Callaghan proceedings, Tuesday displayed a lack of interest in the lord mayor's movements. Labor department officials said the whole matter was in the hands of the state department. State department officials said they presumed that was true, but admitted they were doing nothing.

Meanwhile O'Callaghan, who is making speeches throughout the country may continue his tour uninterrupted by the government as long as he remains orderly and law abiding.

TRANS TRADE DRIVE IN FAR EAST

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—An American commercial offensive in the far east probably will be the major movement in an impending world shifting of ocean trade routes, it was learned Tuesday.

The objective of the far east offensive if it is undertaken, will be the upbuilding of a trans-Pacific trade to offset losses in Europe and South America and avert a slump that, with out new outlets for American productivity, might affect every agricultural and manufacturing industry.

This program will include:

1.—Establishment of new steamship lines at San Francisco, Portland, Seattle and all the west coast and Puget Sound ports, together with development of port industries and placing of new manufacturing industries through out the coast country.

2.—The same development at New Orleans, Galveston and Gulf and south Atlantic ports, for new lines to the far east through the Panama canal.

3.—New lines and increases of existing service from Boston, New York, Baltimore and north Atlantic ports for trans-Pacific trade via the canal.

Friend of Roosevelt and Edison Dies on Trail While on His Way to Celebrate Eighty-fourth Birthday With Friends.

New York.—John Burroughs, famous naturalist, died at 2 a. m. Tuesday on a train on which he was enroute from California to his home at West Park, New York, according to a telegram received by Dr. Walter Grey Crump here.

The telegram was sent from Buffalo, New York, by Dr. Clara Barrus, the naturalist's secretary, and indicated Burroughs' death occurred shortly before the train reached that city.

Dr. Crump said the body would be brought on to Poughkeepsie. Friends and relatives will meet the body at Poughkeepsie.

Dr. Crump's information was that Burroughs, who spent the winter in Pasadena, Calif., became ill after his train left Chicago on the eastward journey. A telegram was sent to Dr. Crump by Dr. Barrus requesting him to meet Burroughs at Poughkeepsie.

When Dr. Crump was making preparations to start for Poughkeepsie, the second message arrived, advising him that the naturalist was dead.

Burroughs had planned to celebrate his eighty-fourth birthday with Henry Ford, H. S. Firestone and Thomas A. Edison, April 3, and was returning from the trip with this idea in mind.

Burroughs' death removes from American life its most beloved naturalist and one of its most prominent essayists and critics.

It was the unconventional in writing and in nature that appealed to him.

Burroughs was a close friend of Theodore Roosevelt and the two often enjoyed tramps through the woods, studying bird and animal life. During the last few years he had spent most of his summers camping with Thomas A. Edison and Henry Ford.

His 83rd birthday was celebrated with a great gathering which included his particular friends, Henry Ford, H. S. Firestone and Thomas A. Edison. The event was to have taken place at his home in Floral Park.

He was born in Roxbury, New York, April 3, 1837, of English and Irish stock. He spent his early youth at study both in the country school and the field and woods. At the age of 14 he began writing essays and at 19 was a contributor to the Atlantic monthly. After graduating from Cooperstown seminary he taught school for eight or nine years.

Write Many Books
In 1863 Burroughs was appointed to the treasury department, first as keeper of the vault and later as chief of an organization bureau in the division of national banks. He left the department in 1873. He purchased a small farm near Esopus, on the west bank of the Hudson, the following year, where he devoted his winters to literary work.

Both Walt Whitman and Matthew Arnold exercised a strong influence over Burroughs. His first book, published in 1887 was "S. Walt Whitman as Poet and Person." Since then he had written numerous magazine articles and the following books:

"Wake Robin," "Winter Sunshine," "Birds and Poets," "Locusts and Wild Hens," "Faint Faints," "Signs and Seasons," "Fresh Bites," "Indoor Studies," "Havenly," "A Study of the Light of Day," "Squirrels and Other Fur Boarers," "Literary Values," "Far and Near," "Ways of Nature," "Bird and Bough," "Camps and Tramping with Roosevelt," "Leaf and Tendril," "Time and Change," and "The Summit of the Years."

The latter was written in 1913.

INEFFICIENT RAIL OPERATION COSTS BILLION A YEAR

Labor Economist Attacks Railroad Attempt to Cancel Agreements.

Chicago.—Inefficient management is costing the railroads of the nation a billion dollars a year, W. Jett Lauck, consulting labor economist, told the United States railroad labor board Tuesday.

Lauck appeared for rail employees to show why national shop agreements between employers and employees should not be abrogated as asked by rail executives. Lauck said the railroads were due to the "inefficiencies of management and not national agreements."

"If railroad management was characterized by reasonable efficiency and had available for its use a proper amount of credit or capital labor costs would have shown a radical decrease under national agreements," said Lauck.

He charges that the carriers' arguments to have national agreement abrogated are to prevent the establishment of human standards in industry.

"We shall demonstrate that the railroads are now consciously and deliberately taking advantage of a temporary industrial depression to destroy human standards which are sanctioned by the thought and practice of the leading industrial nations of the world," Lauck stated.

Attacking the claim of W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania lines, that national agreements produce inefficiency and waste, Lauck declared:

"We will soon submit evidence to show conclusively that the output of employees, or their productive efficiency, has greatly increased as compared with the pre-war period and that a much greater volume of traffic has been handled by fewer employees working a fewer number of hours."

Rotarians Complete Plans For Scout Drive

Progress of Scout Movement Is Reviewed by E. R. Henderson at Rotary Meeting Tuesday Noon—Will Raise $7,500.

Appleton only has scratched the surface in its boy scout work although the last six months have been a period of commendable achievement, it was revealed at the Rotary club luncheon Tuesday noon in the Y. M. C. A. in an address by E. R. Henderson, scout executive. The meeting was devoted wholly to preparation for the campaign next week to raise a minimum budget of $7,500 to carry the scout work through the coming year.

George Packard, chairman of the boys' work committee, presided and presented details of the solicitation which the club has agreed to assume.

Appleton had two properly recognized boy scout troops with 64 members before the Appleton Boy Scout Advisory council was organized. Mr. Henderson said there were three other troops with a makeshift form of organization. They lacked the essentials of a real and successful troop. These five troops forming the nucleus for boy scout work in Appleton, were taken in charge by the council and placed on their feet.

In six months Appleton has built its organization to 15 troops with 427 members, the speaker said. All of these are in churches or schools except one which operates independently. Six more are to be organized before it is time to go to camp this summer. This will bring the membership for the first year over the five hundred mark.

"Progress of scout work is recorded by the court of honor," Mr. Henderson said. "This body is the barometer by which the true development of the boy is revealed. The court has passed 102 merit badges besides regular."

COORDINATION IS BECOMING A REAL PASSION

Cabinet Members Trying to Arrange Work to Avoid Duplication.

CONTROL IS TOO DIVIDED

Secret Service and Cables Are Under Jurisdiction of Several Bosses.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1921

Washington.—The passion for coordination seems to have seized the Harding administration in earnest. Scarcely a cabinet meeting is held but that some plan is discussed for reorganizing different branches of the government service and consolidating bureaus. When congress gets back here in a fortnight, the executive will begin conferences with legislative leaders so that laws may be framed permitting flexibility.

Thus far discussion has centered on three important phases of government service wherein effort is said to be too widely distributed, first, the handling of communications including wireless, cables, telegraphs; second, the absence of any general manager for the different investigating bureaus and detective agencies of the government whereby fraud and other violations of the many laws of the United States are investigated; and third, the lack of a general supervisory bureau or department caring for the different fleets of the government outside the navy such as the revenue cutters, the lighthouse and steamboat inspection service, the life saving service, the coast and geodetic service and kindred activities.

All use ships but equip them separately and are more or less in competition with each other both in scales of pay and the purchase of supplies.

International Tangles
The need for some definite organization which shall take charge of the communications of the United States has been emphasized as a consequence of the several controversies with which the government is engaged. There is, for example, the contest with Japan over possession of a cable base in the island of Yap. Then there is the naval radio situation involving certain entities for the public as between the use of naval facilities to supplement private operations and the encouragement on the other hand of private companies of purely American ownership.

The legal fight between the Western Union Telegraph and the government over the landing of a cable in Miami, Fla., and the entire cable situation as it affects South America has opened up such intricate questions of vital importance to the future of the United States that no one branch of the government is authorized to handle the entire subject of communications under present statutes.

Cabinet officers recognize that the cable and wireless interests of the American people and their government require more protection now.

Chicago's Little Italy Rocked By Blast Which Killed 10 And Hurt 50

Explosion in Papermill in "Bloody Nineteenth" Ward Causes Terror.

MANY HOMES DESTROYED Hundreds of Frightened Italians Are Forced Out of Their Homes.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Ten were torn to death and fifty injured Tuesday when an explosion rocked "Little Italy" in the heart of Chicago's tenement district.

Investigation leads authorities to believe that the blast started in the paper warehouse of Joseph Weil and company.

Damage will run close to a million dollars, police estimated. This included the loss of several buildings and homes in the vicinity that were splintered. One hundred families were made homeless.

Harry Weil, son of the owner of the paper house, and N. Schaffer, part owner of the Finger Schaffer company, merchandise warehouse near the scene, were taken to police headquarters for questioning.

Cause of the blast is undetermined but three theories have been advanced:

Labor feud, political feud or leaky gas main.

Only a few of the mangled bodies pulled from the ruins have been identified.

Police reserves rushed from all over the city when the general alarm of disaster was given.

Fire crews from all points arrived. Firemen Remove Dead.
The explosion was not followed by a fire so the fire fighters became engaged in digging the dead and injured out of the wreckage.

Three dead had been taken out and it is estimated that at least three others are under the debris.

The injured were rushed to improvised hospitals in the vicinity. Homes were thrown open for the care of those hurt. The three victims of the explosion who were pulled from the ruins, were badly mangled. It is expected that identification will be difficult if not impossible.

The explosion was heard for miles around. Heavy plate glass windows were smashed on the sidewalks within a radius of one mile.

Pictures in homes were crushed to the floors.

A cordon of police was immediately thrown about the scene to keep back the frantic Italians who rushed to the scene to determine if any of their relatives were among the victims.

Heavily mangled Italian women, grown old over the years, that some of their loved ones had been killed or injured, battled with the police to see if they could identify any of the victims. Police, however, were forced to hold back these pathetic women, with brightly colored shawls hastily thrown about their shoulders, the first body to reach the county morgue was identified with difficulty as that of Mike Tjanski, 32, a truck driver.

He was found underneath the wrecked building.

It is not known whether he was in the building at the time or hurled from his truck which was passing the scene when the blast came.

His head was blown off.

The foot of a girl, still near with its satin pump, was pulled out and placed on a white canvas covered stretcher waiting for the remainder of the shattered body.

A horse, with its legs blown completely off was still alive when firemen arrived and its howling of misery and suffering were ended by a revolver shot. The Weil Paper company was surrounded by little shabby cottages inhabited by Italians. Many of these little homes were smashed to atoms and the occupants bleeding and bruised, forced to the street.

Police estimated that the loss from the explosion would reach the million dollar mark. This included the wrecked factory and the little homes near it.

GRAND JURY OPENS NEW LIQUOR PROBE

Milwaukee.—"Booze" will be given a thorough airing by a federal grand jury which will convene here Tuesday.

Stills and contraband liquor confiscated since the last surge, have been prohibited from sale. The federal grand jury will convene here Tuesday.

The grand jury was the winner in the first jury case under the Mulberger law in local courts late Monday when the six men returned a verdict of guilty and a fine of $300 and costs was imposed on Steve Dogolovich, saloonkeeper. Five other liquor dealers are to appear in district court Tuesday charged with violation of the Mulberger law.

Several members of the Appleton police force have been summoned to Milwaukee to appear as witnesses in the grand jury, and it is expected that recent raids here will be investigated with a view of returning indictments against alleged rum sellers.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE

SIX SCOUTMASTERS MASTER NEW COURSE

Boy Scout Executive Conducts
Weekly Classes for Leaders in Work.

Six new scoutmasters began the new course in scouting Monday evening at the headquarters under the direction of H. B. Henderson, scout executive. The topic discussed was "What is Scouting?" About 15 minutes was spent in knot tying and a discussion of the law and a discussion of troop organization.

Classes are to be conducted each Monday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. Mr. Henderson intends to enroll men who are not in charge of troops, but who are interested in the work and want to gain a working knowledge of scouting.

Next Monday evening "The Boy" will be the principal theme of the lesson. Formation of patrols, registration procedure, discipline and an explanation of the significance of the American flag will be taken up. Knot tying practice will be continued. Subsequent lessons will deal with the life and activities of scouts. Study will be given to outdoor training, camping, cooking, merit courses and the outstanding phases of successful boy scout troops.

MILITARY HONORS AT HEROES' BURIAL

Indefinite reports have reached J. Hugo Keller, adjutant of Onee Johnston post of the American Legion, that bodies of several Appleton soldiers killed in the World war are on their way to Appleton. The post plans to provide escort, military honors and military burial for these men, but desires to make ample reparation.

"I want to ask the people of Appleton to notify me promptly of any bodies that are being conveyed to Appleton," said Mr. Keller. "It has happened that the legion post was not informed in several cases until the day the body arrived. It is then too late to arrange the burial we desire to give each of our comrades. Word usually is sent ahead from New York. As soon as this word is received, the post ought to be notified. I hope everybody who knows of the arrival in this country of any bodies will notify me or some other officer of the post at once."

Prowlers Try To Enter 2 Third Ward Homes

Attempts of unidentified men to enter the home of George H. Peerenboom, 505 Elm st., and Mrs. Loula Schreiner, 900 Elm st., were frustrated about 9 o'clock Monday evening by the quick arrival of the police.

Mrs. Peerenboom was home alone. She says that someone peered through the windows but she thought it was neighbors and paid no attention to it. Later, someone tried the rear door. She saw a light in the yard and the front door and tried to force entrance. Mrs. Peerenboom suspected that it must be an intruder so she telephoned the police. Sergeant Earl Vandebor-part and Officer Albert Delugen responded.

About the same time someone was heard in the stairway leading to Mrs. Schreiner's upper apartment. It is said that a man was seen fleeing down the stairway and that he disappeared into the ravine. The officers scoured the neighborhood and examined every possible hiding place but could find no one.

Mrs. Peerenboom is of the opinion that two men were attempting robbery, snatching each other simultaneously. They probably knew she was home alone, and thinks the arrival of the police caused their quick flight.

BODY OF RAYMOND WEISS COMING HOME

Plans were discussed at the meeting of Rainbow Division Veterans at the armory Monday evening for taking care of the bodies of dead comrades which are reported to be en route to the United States. Military escorts and military burial will be provided by the veterans.

The body of Raymond Weiss is reported to have arrived in New York and probably will reach Appleton this week. More definite information is expected in a day or two, after which the local service men will arrange the funeral.

Other business matters were discussed, including full support of good government work in progress in Onee Johnston post of the American Legion. A "feed" and smoker are planned for the meeting the last Monday in April.

Mrs. J. M. Walsh and Donald Frawley, who have been visiting their mother, Mrs. D. J. Frawley, Oak st., returned to Milwaukee Tuesday morning, the latter to resume his studies at Marquette university.

TAKE CINDERS FROM NEW BUILDING SITE

All doubt about the Lutheran Aid society erecting its new five story office building at the corner of College-ave. and Superior-st. this summer was banished Monday when the street department was instructed to remove the cinders placed on the site last fall when the city was granted permission to use the corner for parking purposes.

The street department can use the cinders at this time to advantage as it is short of a supply owing to many of the mills being either closed down or running on a short hour schedule.

Nomination of officers for the ensuing year will occur at the regular meeting of Typographical Union No. 612 at 8 o'clock Friday evening in Trade Council hall.

Volleyball Finals

Finals will be played in St. Paul school hall Wednesday evening by mixed volleyball teams Nos. 1 and 3 of the St. Paul Young Peoples society. An elimination series was played following the last meeting of the society. A short business session is to precede the game.

BIG BOND ISSUE NO BURDEN TO KAUKAUNA

Electrical Department Profits Will Pay for Municipal Building.

Kaukauna.—Kaukauna has the distinction of being one of the few cities in the country which will bond itself for a large sum of money and pay for it from the public utility department, thus making it unnecessary to add to the burden of the taxpayers.

A bond issue of $100,000 was authorized by the council at its last regular meeting. Of this sum $30,000 will be used for improvement of the water works and electrical departments, and will go into the tax roll.

The remaining $70,000 will be used to build the new municipal building.

SLOAN'S GOES RIGHT TO THE ACHING SPOT

You can just tell by its healthy, stimulating odor, that it is going to do you good

THOUSANDS of men and women, when the least little rheumatic "crick" assails them, have Sloan's Liniment handy to knock it out. Popular over a third of a century ago—far more popular today.

That's because it is so wonderfully helpful in relieving external aches and pains—sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia, overstrained muscles, stiff joints, weather exposure results. A little is all that is necessary, for it soon penetrates without rubbing, to the sore spot. No muss, no stained skin.

All druggists—35c, 70c, $1.40.

PESHTIGO MILL TO START NEW MACHINE

The second machine of the new plant of the Peshtigo Pulp and Paper Co. will be started up Wednesday, March 30, for the first time. The other machine has been in operation continuously since last June. Both machines are 148 inches in width and of the latest design.

The new plant of the Peshtigo Fibre Co. turned out its first pulp last week and has been furnishing the Peshtigo Pulp and Paper Co. with all its pulp since that time. The greater part of the pulp turned out by the new plant, will be used by the paper mill.

A large portion of the stock of the two companies is owned by Appleton people.

When the plan was worked out it was assumed that the electrical department is making enough money to pay for the building. The plan is to pay the contractors what money is now in the treasury of the department as soon as work on the building is started. By the time it is finished, it is assumed that the electrical department will have cleared enough money to pay the debt. The bonds will be taken up as they fall due and cancelled.

The bonding of the city for the project is merely a precautionary measure. Should something occur to make the electrical department unable to function so that it cannot pay the money, the city will go good for it. It is merely a guarantee to the contractors that they will receive their money.

THE COST OF EDUCATION

Despite the low salaries of teachers and the meager and inadequate equipment of schools, many people believe the support of the public schools, elementary, secondary and higher to be our chief burden. This opinion seems to be common about state legislatures and other tax-levying bodies. People otherwise well informed sometimes fall into this error. Recently a prominent professor in one of our great universities expressed the opinion that the support of the state universities was about to bankrupt some of the states. What are the facts? How do expenditures for the schools compare with other expenditures?

In 1918, the last year for which complete reports have been compiled, we spent in the United States for public education, elementary and secondary, $762,259,154; for normal schools for the training of teachers, $20,414,689; for higher education in colleges, universities and professional and technical schools, whether supported by public taxation or privately endowed, $137,055,115. The grand total was $919,729,258. From the beginning of our history to 1920 we have expended a grand total of about $14,500,000,000 for public elementary and secondary schools; $295,000,000 for normal schools, and $1,950,000,000 for higher education. Our total education bill today is, therefore, approximately $16,445,000,000. In all cases the figures include expenditures for buildings and equipment, repairs, heating, lighting and other incidentals as well as expenditures for teachers' salaries. The total amount paid in salaries to teachers in public elementary and secondary schools in 1918 was only $102,298,516. Salaries of teachers in private elementary and secondary schools, colleges, normal schools, universities and technical schools amounted to approximately $90,146,724 making a total of $192,445,240. These figures are compiled by the federal commissioner of education.

Making all due allowances for defective returns, the total amount spent for public education in 1918, including current expenditures for private and endowed colleges and universities, and all expenditures for capital investment in buildings and equipment, was less than one billion of dollars. According to government returns for 1920, the people of the United States spent for luxuries in that year $22,700,000,000; more than 22 times as much as they spent for education only two years before, and six billions, or thirty per cent, more than we have spent for education in all our history. In 1920 we blew away in smoke of cigars and cigarettes $300,000,000 more than the total cost of all education in 1918. Government reports show that "luxurious service," whatever that may mean, for the single year cost more than the total paid for all public education for the four years from 1915 to 1918, inclusive, and 45 per cent more than higher education has ever cost us. The same of joy rides, pleasure resorts and races. So much for volunteer expenditures for things ordinarily called luxuries and not absolutely necessary.

It is equally interesting to compare the expenditures for education with other governmental receipts and expenditures. Receipts of the federal government from customs and internal revenues for 1920 were $5,730,978,117. This is more than six times the amount expended for education in 1918, and more than one-third the estimated total expenditures for public education and all higher education from the beginning of our history until 1920. It is fully ten times the total salaries of all teachers in all schools, public and private. If to the income of the federal government be added the taxes collected by states, counties and municipalities for other purposes than education, the total will be fully fifteen times as much as the total salaries of teachers of all public elementary and secondary schools, normal schools, colleges, universities and technological and professional schools of all kinds. To double the salaries of all these teachers would require the addition of only one dollar in fifteen to the total of federal, state, county and municipal taxes. For every fifteen dollars paid, the average taxpayer would pay sixteen dollars, and after his receipts are put away he would not know the difference. If nothing were paid teachers from public taxation the average taxpayers would still pay fourteen dollars of the fifteen he now pays, and would not remember the difference after the tax receipts are put away.

These and other figures which might be easily determined show very clearly that, compared with other expenditures public and private, expenditures for education are negligible. We think we believe in education. We talk much about it and many of us have believed that we pay much for it; that it in fact constitutes a very great burden if indeed it is not our chief burden. No doubt we do believe in education in a way, but we have not and do not pay much for it.

ECONOMICS AND COMMON SENSE

By an algebraic formula tested over a period of 30 years Halbert P. Gillette, editor and economist, arrives at two interesting conclusions: First, that prices will have reached their bottom level in May. Second, that this May level of prices and wages will be 60 per cent above the level of 1913. Gillette is one economist who accepts the human equation as a factor in his calculations. Hence the following observations by him are as interesting as they are unusual:

The average man is habituated to spend practically all his income every year. Borrowed and invested money can be effectively used only by spending it. The notion that there was a decrease in the per capita productivity during the war is a fallacy. Between the years 1865 and 1907 the per capita efficiency in production in the United States doubled.

The futile attempt of our war allies to pay their debts to us in gold is an economic curse to themselves and to us. Our accumulation of one-third of the total of the world's gold money has upset all our price and wage schedules. With the requirement of normal price and wage levels, the teachers and preachers and certain types of office workers, whose salaries did not advance during the war, will have to be paid more money.

The farmers, all of whom had a hard time of it last year, will benefit this year. Prices for their products will go up. It will be many years before construction costs will decrease materially below the level of 1912.

Every nation always spends all that is earned annually. The way to stabilize price levels is to control both the quantity of money and the average velocity with which it circulates. Every European nation made the blunder of printing paper money during the war, thus inflating prices.

Wages doubled for American workers between the years 1885 and 1909. At the same time, commodity prices remained practically unchanged. Hence the buying power of average wages doubled in that 20 year period.

A panic was prevented during the recent slump in prices by the fact that the banks could draw upon the federal reserve for reserve notes in exchange for commercial paper.

Gillette's algebraic system of forecasting prices may puzzle us, his economic theories may bother us, but there is considerable of common sense in his arguments. So far as prices are concerned, many have already reached the bottom level. In some lines we may even expect a hardening of prices during the coming year. There is every reason to believe with Gillette that deflation has been very largely completed, and that we are at the point of better and healthier business conditions throughout the country.

GOING BACK

By Alfred Arnold

I'm going back; I'm going back.
Along the old well-beaten track
To stand outside the old house door
And look and listen as before.

The murmurs in the doorway trees
Will whisper of cool evening ease.
The honeyuckle trellised there
Will scent with welcome twilight's air.

And from the windows soft will shine
The light that's hers, and yet is mine
That lights up love and peace and rest
And joy in trustful childhood's breast.

And listening, I'll hear voices say,
"The time has been so far away."
And with a laugh that makes a tune,
"He can't be long; he's coming soon!"

Then as I knock upon the door,
There'll rise an instant wild uproar.
With many an "OH!" and hug and smack
I'm going back! I'm going back!

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names and addresses must be given. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

PRETTY SOFT

A fat woman who had asked me to tell her how she might reduce her weight sadly wrote again a month later to say that it was so hard to eat a little less and so hard to consume any reasonable proportion of the fuel she stored, or, as she put it, isn't there something one can just take or rub on, without the awful agony of exercise and regulation of one's diet?

Some folks commonly considered lazy are in reality sick. Yet there is considerable incidence of a purely volitional character. Most fat folks have a touch of it. Not the extreme cases of obesity so much as the incipient or milder cases, those in which the victim is probably the last to notice the insidious accumulation of slacker flesh. What slight justification there may be for the stigma attached to undue corpulence rests on the fact that the victim fails to discipline his habits of eating and exercise.

Everybody knows that a horse may be kept in proper condition by an intelligent management of the horse's work or exercise and food. The man who feeds his horse too generously and works the animal too little is laughed at when the horse develops obesity. What the human animal needs is a little horse sense.

Too many thousands of our women nowadays sidestep most of the housework and at the same time consider themselves too old, too sickly, too tired or too busy to engage in any kind of athletic activity or play which calls for muscular exertion or exercise. Too many badly educated women have come to think of sweat as something vulgar instead of the wholesome thing it is. Sweating, if people only know it, is a mighty healthful habit. It doesn't "carry off" any great amount of "impurities"—that feature of sweating is of insignificant bearing—but it does prove you are burning up plenty of waste and fuel, that your cooling system is in good working order, and that, above all, you are absorbing a little sorely needed oxygen from the air you breathe. This last point is the important one. The oxygen is utilized for destroying accumulations of waste matter which have to do with that far too fashionable malady called auto-intoxication. Also has to do with burning off accumulations of slacker flesh, adipose fat.

Any one who seeks some safe method of reducing weight which does not depend upon intelligent regulation of the food and the work, seeks a myth. There are certain drugs which will unquestionably reduce weight without any regulation of diet and exercise, but only a fool would ruin his own health by such abuse. There are, too, certain morbid physical conditions, of which excess of weight may be one feature only, which may be overcome by the judicious administration of the appropriate remedy, perhaps a ductless gland hormone deficient in the individual's own body, under the personal supervision of the patient's medical adviser. And no one with a grain of sense would venture to trifle with any such potent, two-edged weapon. To reduce you have got to reverse the process whereby you acquired the handicap.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Take This Case for Instance

Am delighted to tell you that I have lost thirty-eight pounds on your Karell regimen for obesity in the past eleven weeks. I have only twenty more to lose, which I hope to get rid of in the course of the next few weeks. Never felt better. Thank you. (Mrs. A. C. B., Mississippi)

COMMENT.—I have refused to send the Karell regimen to numerous correspondents for these several reasons: The correspondent fails to make known his age, height and weight, fails to write the correct address on the stamped envelope he incloses for reply, fails to stamp the envelope, fails to make known for what purpose the Karell system is to be used—it is more commonly employed for the treatment of certain diseases of the heart, for dropsical conditions, digestive disorders and so forth than for obesity. No one under the age of nineteen years need ask for it.

Eighteen Off

My dear Dr. Brady: I wish to thank you for the advice you gave me about reducing. I obtained most satisfactory results. I am forty years old, 65 inches tall, and had reached the alarming mark of 168 pounds. Two weeks of the regimen you laid down took off eighteen pounds and I am feeling fine. Please tell me just what I should weigh. (Mrs. A. C. B., Virginia)

ANSWER.—A woman aged 40, 65 inches tall, should weigh 145 pounds stripped, and is within normal bounds, from the viewpoints of health and appearance, so long as she does not weigh over ten per cent too much—she must not go over the 155 pounds limit. Therefore you should now depend on a maintenance ration plus a reasonable amount of exercise every day to keep you as you are.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Tuesday, March 31, 1896

C. H. Brown of Batavia, Ill., was visiting paper manufacturers.

The Republicans of Menasha nominated P. V. Lawson for mayor.

Dr. Alcea Nirison entertained her Sunday school class of boys.

Miss Elizabeth Wilson returned from a several days' visit with friends at Waupun.

A. W. Treutman, principal of Fourth ward school, was visiting his parents at Oshkosh.

Mrs. J. S. Reeve returned from a visit to her old home in Massachusetts.

Herman Wildhagen removed his office from the rooms over Stark & Tesch's store on Appleton-st., to the office formerly occupied by Philip Dean over Bandle's store, 840 College-ave.

The Rev. W. J. Fitzmaurice returned from a five weeks' visit at Pass Christian, Miss., where he went for the benefit of his health.

The Riverside Fibre Co. placed an order for an additional sulphite digester which was to double its capacity.

A 17-year old son of John Grogg of the town of Harrison, had his left hand blown off by the explosion of an overloaded shotgun.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Underwood removed to Waupun to make their future home. They leased their residence to H. J. Siffer for a term of three years.

The wedding of Miss Jessie A. Kimberly of Neenah and Nathan Paine of Oshkosh was announced to take place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kimberly, Wednesday evening, April 3.

J. K. Fritzsche purchased the interest of his partner, John Wiegand, in the wool carding and dyeing house of Fritzsche & Co., located near Wili's mill.

A mothers' meeting was to be held at the home of Mrs. O. W. Pond the following afternoon.

MORTUARY IS REFUSED

Arming Our Criminals

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—Any man who feels moved to destroy will soon be able, in the good old American fashion, to get all the dynamite, nitroglycerine and other high explosives that he wants. Soon children again play with sticks of giant powder which they have picked up around rock quarries, convicts at work on the road will conceal explosives with which to resume the merry business of cracking safes when they are released, motorists will easily steal all the dynamite they want with which to make bombs for blowing up cabinet officers and government buildings. This is not pure prophecy. All of the conditions mentioned in the paragraph above were found to exist by the Bureau of Mines when they first undertook the administration of the Federal Explosives Act in 1917. At that time the United States was literally popping like a bunch of firecrackers. Attention, factories and bridges were blown up with astonishing ease and regularity. A Cabinet officer's house was wrecked, then a portion of the Capitol building went up in the air. It was evident that not only were astute enemy aliens able to get and use high explosives, but persons of the poorest means and intelligence and of evidently unsettled mind had the same advantage.

All of this led to the passage of the Federal Explosives Act, which was administered by the Bureau of Mines. It greatly reduced the damage done by high explosives, both accidental and deliberately criminal and it revealed a condition with regard to their distribution and use such as finds parallel in no other civilized country. Few states had any adequate laws governing either the sale or use of explosives, and there was no Federal law on the subject except a ruling of the interstate commerce commission with regard to their interstate shipment. As a result, dynamite and other high explosives were bought and sold like groceries, stored anywhere and by anybody, caused enormous numbers of accidents, and were widely and picturesquely used in crime.

Law Expires

To this same condition we are now about to return unless Congress does something about it, for the Federal Explosives Act was a war measure. It technically remains in force until the declaration of peace, or until its funds for its administration are exhausted. This point has now been reached. Unless Congress acts promptly, we now return to the regime under which anyone can blow up anything or anybody, any time. Indeed, to a great extent we have already returned to it. A few weeks ago in Maryland, two farm hands had a quarrel. One of them went to a general store, stole a large quantity of dynamite, blew up the home of his neighbor, killing a man and a baby and badly injuring a woman. The shock was felt for eight miles. The man who did the work was considered to be of unsound mind. Yet he had easy access to sudden death and destruction in enormous quantities.

The Bureau of Mines is asking Congress to pass a law which will continue the administration of high explosives in its hands. It stands on the facts as to the need for such regulation as revealed by the conditions found in 1917, and upon the war time act. It also points out that during the war many thousands of men became familiar with explosives who would never before have thought of using them. Pertinent also are the facts that there is much unrest in the country and an unusual amount of crime.

Q. Were passports necessary before the World war? A. A.

A. The state department says that before the World war it was necessary to have a passport for entrance into Russia, and for departure from Turkey, Germany and Austria sometimes demanded a passport. These were practically all the countries observing such enforcement.

Q. Do English universities have a system in which the students recite as they do in America? L. F. M.

A. Formal teaching at Cambridge and Oxford is chiefly by means of lectures. Seldom is a member of a class called upon for what in America is known as a recitation.

Q. Where is the deepest ore mine? M. A. R.

A. The deepest ore mine in the world is the gold mine at Norro, Vreho, Brazil, the depth of which is 4346 feet.

Q. When did buttons first appear? L. M.

A. The history of the button dates back to Queen Elizabeth's reign. At first buttons were made only for purposes of ornamentation. Brass buttons were first made in Birmingham, England, in 1600.

Q. Why was the trip of exploration through Africa undertaken by the Department of Agriculture? B. I. H.

A. The 9,000 mile trip through Africa which was conducted by the Department of Agriculture was in search of new plants. The exploration was conducted by Dr. H. L. Shantz, agricultural explorer. The principal purpose of Dr. Shantz's trip

VIVIANI REFUSES TO DISCUSS MISSION HERE

By United Press Licensed Wire
New York.—"I come to the United States to pay the respects of France to President Harding," was the only statement Rene Viviani, premier of France, who arrived here this morning, would make concerning his mission to America.

A semi-official tone was given to Viviani's arrival. Representatives of the state department were aboard the special revenue cutter that landed him at a flag decked pier and a delegation including Rodman Wanamaker, Ambassador Jules Jusserand and representatives of the city of New York greeted him on American soil.

Adventures of the Twins

Olive Roberts Barton

"Mrs. Kangy Departs."

After Nancy and Nick and Flippety-Flap had brought Squeak, the elephant-baby, back to the circus, Flippety-Flap sat down and squinted thoughtfully at the sole of his enormous shoes (where he wrote all his reminders).

"Mrs. Kangy is gone, too!" said he. "The gnomes let her out of her cage and she took her son, Kicky Kang, along back home with her."

"Mrs. Kangy?" cried Nancy. "Who is she?"

"The big kangaroo," explained Flippety-Flap. "And she carries her son around in a valise. Handiest thing you ever saw."

"But what if she'd check it some time," said Nick, "and lose the ticket, Daddy did that once."

Flippety-Flap laughed heartily. "Why, bless you, boy, she can't lose either the valise or the ticket. She couldn't check it if she wished to. She carries her valise fastened tight to her tummy. Most convenient, I call it."

It was with a neat draw-string on top. When sonny has a cold and she does not wish him to go out and play, she merely says:

"It's damp out today, my dear, so you stay in the house." Then she ties a double knot in the drawstring and sonny stays in. Or when he's been naughty, it's easy as butter to put him to bed without his supper and tie three knots to make sure of him. But, best of all, if sonny gets chased and someone threatens to hurt her darling, she chuckles him into her valise and jerks it shut, and then says:

"Come on, now whatever your name is, I'll settle with you. And whatever his name is, that's been after sonny, usually howls and turns tail and runs. Mrs. Kangy isn't just talking when she says she'll jump on people. She's the best kicker, too. I'll tell you about that again."

BOOSTERS TOLD OF THINGS TO BOOST

F. E. Anderson, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was the speaker at a Boosters club rally Monday evening in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. He spoke on the "World View of the Y. M. C. A."

George F. Werner, general secretary of the local association, also spoke. He told of some of the things that can be boosted by the Boosters club.

Movies were shown of the Y. M. C. A. camps, Camp Manitowish, Camp Phantom and the cherry pickers camp. When the faces of familiar Appleton men were flashed upon the screen there was quite a stir in the lobby. Among those who were active in the camp work last year and who appeared were W. S. Ford and Chester Hartlett.

Music by the boys department orchestra opened the program. Community singing was led by Mr. Werner.

A good way to use the juice from a can of pineapple is in a pie. The juice is used instead of water in the filling for a pie on meringue pie. Only the grated rind of half a lemon is used. If a slice or two of pineapple is left, shred it and add it to the custard. Use the regular recipe for lemon meringue pie, substituting pineapple juice for water.

Breakfast for Tomorrow

Uncooked cereal, sugar and cream, toast, marmalade, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Toad in the hole, pickles, health bread, tea.

DINNER—Pork tenderloin, scalloped potatoes, spinach with hard-boiled eggs, compote of pears, coffee.

My Own Recipes

When spinach is served the salad may be omitted. Greens take the place of salad. However, greens or salad should be included in some way every day for the sake of the minerals.

Toad in the Hole

One cup flour, 1 cup milk, 1 egg, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 pound sausage or 1 cup chopped cold meat.

If stuffed sausage is used remove skin and crumble meat. Mix flour, milk, egg and salt into a smooth batter. Pour about 1-4 the batter into a well-greased baking dish. Bake until set. Reduce heat and bake slowly until meat is done. This may be baked in an oblong shallow pan, and cut in squares to serve.

Health Bread

One cup whole wheat flour, 2 cup bran, 1 cup buttermilk or sour milk, 1-2 cup molasses, 1-2 cup nuts, 1-2 cup raisins, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 1-2 teaspoon salt.

Dissolve soda in milk. Mix dry ingredients, add nuts and raisins, and molasses and milk. Turn into a brick-shaped bread pan and bake an hour in a slow oven.

Miss Sylvia Brinkman, who has been the guest of Mrs. George Vogel, has returned to her home at Plymouth. Miss Irene Finnegan, who is teaching at Hammond, Ind., is spending her Easter vacation with Appleton friends.

THE BOOK OF MARTHA

Two Women Confess—1. of My Predicament; She, of Her Sorrow

The rose pink of nature which no rouge can rival glows in Martha's cheeks, and her eyes are a deep violet, and her hair is like spun gold. That December morning she wore a long blue cape which sometimes concealed, sometimes revealed, the magnificent curves of her tall figure. It has always been the habit of us Lovers to jolly Martha, the independent "lady-laywer" about her slavish devotion to her man. "The girl is no silly chatter-box, but she has been so desperately in love with Ewart that she never has failed to introduce his name, by quoting his opinion, in almost every other paragraph of her conversation, that is, in her talks with her intimates.

That morning I suddenly realized that Martha had been with me half an hour and hadn't voluntarily referred to Ewart! And she had actually shut off my inquiries about him by an abrupt rejoinder!

Perhaps if Martha had been gloriously happy as in the old days, I would never have thrown my own relief upon her burdened heart, but because I perceived that she had some secret sorrow of her own, I turned to her impulsively with:

"I need comfort, Martha! I'm tired—so tired—of trying to be brave alone!"

"Tired—of trying to be brave—alone!" she repeated. Then she made a visible effort to be cheerful. "Better hand me your worries, my dear. Let me check them and store them for a while. Confession is first class psychology for people in trouble, you know."

"It's up-to-date thought as well as ancient religion," I agreed. "So, here goes, Martha dearest."

I drew her down beside me upon the divan. I told her about Bob and Katharine Miller, and how much Deb had helped me to resolve to build a heaven in hell's despair, but that before I could start with my construction, Bob's collapse came, perhaps to ruin my building forever.

"If Bob would only regain consciousness long enough to learn the truth about this wire!" I held up that horrid yellow telegram. "If Bob could only comprehend that Ted was making an appointment to meet Deb, not me, perhaps he would be cured instantly. Perhaps I have been wrong."

I hesitated, stopped. I did not care to tell Martha my suspicion about the whereabouts of Bob for thirty-six hours preceding his collapse.

Then I shed a few tears, some for myself and some for my husband and I murmured again:

"I'm so tired, Martha, of trying to be brave alone!"

"I understand perfectly, Jane," Martha replied with a comforting grasp upon my hand.

"Impossible! You can't!" I protested.

Martha looked at me curiously, then she asked:

"Why should you believe that I am exempt from my share of woman's sorrow?"

"Because you have everything any woman can't want!" I cried. "You have your child—and I have none, if I had, I might be brave. I might wish to go on."

Martha interrupted me in her finest professional tone of voice:

"Jane Lorimer, will you be sensible? You do want to go on—you know you do. We all do, no matter how much we weep and wail. You're not going to give up because you think your heart is broken?"

I felt a bit rebuked, and I knew I deserved to be. I sat up rather stiffly and listened for further wisdom from my friend:

"Perhaps you do not understand Bob," she ventured.

"I've studied him enough. I ought to," I asserted defiantly.

"Perhaps you didn't study him in the right mood."

"You're talking just like Chrissy! But why should everybody worry about understanding Bob and nobody worry about understanding me?"

Martha overlooked my bitterness to ask:

"What odd new theory has Chrissy taken up this week?"

MENASHA NEWS

BULLET CRASHES THROUGH WINDOW OF MENASHA HOME

C. H. McClure in Grave Danger. Mrs. T. D. Wheeler Severely Burned.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Menasha.—The home of C. H. McClure, 408 Caroline street was made a target for an unidentified gunman about 9:30 Saturday night. Mr. McClure was reading by the light of a floor lamp when a bullet came through the window, breaking the electric light bulb in the lamp and burned itself in the opposite wall. Several other shots were heard a moment later, one striking the porch. Authorities believe the shooter or shooters were fired with moon shine.

Mrs. T. D. Wheeler, 628 First-st., suffered burns about noon Monday, which may prove fatal. Her clothing caught on fire from a flame of a gas stove. She received severe burns about the arms and body.

Mrs. Wheeler was alone in the house at the time of the accident but managed to get to the telephone and call a doctor. She was removed to Theda Clark hospital Monday afternoon and her condition is said to be critical. The leaders in the Fox river valley bowling tournament now under way at the Menasha Bowling alleys are as follows:

Wisconsin's Forests Are Nearly Exhausted

Forestry Experts. Meeting in Milwaukee, Discuss Means of Saving Rapidly Diminishing Woodlands of Badger State.

Milwaukee.—Wisconsin is face to face with the disappearance of entire communities from its map, according to Dr. Hugh P. Baker of New York, secretary-treasurer of the American Paper and Pulp company, who spoke on Monday at the opening session of the Wisconsin forestry and development conference at Hotel Pfister.

"The depletion of the forests of this state, unless checked, will lead to the abandonment of communities now flourishing and contented," he said.

"In a few decades nothing but ruins will mark the sites of homes and stores that passed out of use with the passing of our forests, if some concrete and effective forestry program is not adopted," said Dr. Baker.

"The state is threatened with the destruction of its great paper and other wood using industries."

"This thing has already occurred in the east, where abandoned settlements bear witness to the waste of the natural forest resources of several states."

State Loses Lead
"Wisconsin has lost its lead in the production of lumber. It was once at the top of the list. Now it is far down on the list. Eight hundred millions of dollars worth of paper was manufactured in the United States last year. Nearly 98 per cent of this was made wholly or in part from wood. The wood pile is thus fundamental to the permanency of the paper industry in Wisconsin and other states."

"Wisconsin can save many a community from extinction, retain the kind of population it wants, and again build up its wood-using industries by studying and supporting the forestry program."

End of Timber Near
The conference which opened Monday morning and will close Tuesday night at the Hotel Pfister has been called by nearly twenty state organizations.

"The end of the country's timber is less than a century away," said Judge A. H. Reid of Wausau, speaking at the morning session. "One authority says that at the present rate of depletion, there will be no available timber of any amount left standing in fifty-five years, unless some check is put on its destruction by fire and some plan adopted for reforestation."

"We are paying the price today for the madness with which we have sought rapid development," said A. L. Osborn of Oshkosh, another Monday morning speaker.

"Forest fires hang like a shadow over our imperiled forest resources. Forest fires must be prevented; the cutting of timber must be regulated; the reproduction of trees must be encouraged and required, in the interests of the general public."

Plan Outlined
A plan by which Wisconsin can raise $200,000 annually for the care of its forests without any additional burden to the general taxpayers was outlined by Arthur F. Beltz of Milwaukee, in his address on the "Legal Aspects of Forestry in Wisconsin."

He advocated increasing the hunting license fee from $1 to $2, which would yield an annual revenue of about $150,000. He also urged a 50 cent license fee for nonresident fishermen in Wisconsin, which would bring $40,000 to the state's coffers.

Fifty cents added to the trapping license would raise the total available for forestry above the $200,000 mark, he claimed.

MARKETING BOARD TO BARE CAUSE OF H. C. L.
Madison.—Complete revelation of the causes of present industrial depression and high costs of living are promised by the Wisconsin division of markets in a statement issued on Monday.

A series of fourteen statements are being prepared on the basis of investigations carried on by the division, each intended to acquaint both consumer and producer with reasons said to be at the bottom of the conditions prevailing.

Among the statements to be given out from week to week are discussions on the price making forces, the interdependence of the farmer and consumer, the influence of foreign markets the causes which decrease the buying power of the consumer, the inefficiency of the present system of distribution, trade privileges, production privileges, and finally, the remedy.

M'CARTHY DEATH IS BIG LOSS TO CAPITAL

Madison The legislature will pass a resolution of condolence, upon reconvening on Tuesday in recognition of the death of Dr. Charles McCarthy, head of the state law reference library and unique character in the state.

Dr. McCarthy's services will be missed in the legislature. He was the confident of members, helped smooth their pathways and did little acts of friendship that endeared him to them. His place, members say, will be hard to fill.

Dr. McCarthy understood his physical condition. Just prior to his departure to Arizona, he confided to his friends that he never expected to return to Madison alive. His capitol associates believed he was worn from hard work and would, under favorable climatic conditions, quickly recover. His death was a shock to them.

WISCONSIN GIRL IN STORY BOOK ROMANCE

Boston.—Marriage intentions of Gertrude M. Galla, daughter of a wealthy mill owner at Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., and Mounted Patrolman William J. Lamb of the Back Bay police station were filed in Boston recently. It became known here today. They met a year ago in the Fenway, when the young woman's stirrup broke and the horse she was riding ran away. Miss Galla was graduated from the university of Wisconsin in 1917. The wedding is scheduled for next Wednesday.

Young Girls Need Care

FROM the age of twelve a girl needs all the care the thoughtful mother can give. Many a woman has suffered years of pain and misery—the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance of the mother who should have guided her during this time.

If she complains of headaches, pains in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter make life easier for her.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for such conditions. It can be taken in safety by any woman, young or old.

Guttenberg, N. J.—"My daughter was all run down and had fainting spells often, had a bad complexion, and suffered at her monthly periods. Her grandmother had been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the Change of Life, and got a bottle of it for her. She began to improve with the first bottle and took five in all and was entirely restored to health. For a time she had not been able to attend school, but she does now. She recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to her friends and give you permission to publish this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. CATHERINE MCGLOVE, 304 24th St., Guttenberg, N. J.

Roxbury, Mass.—"My daughter is a schoolgirl and she suffered very much with irregular periods, painful cramps and dizzy headaches. She was sometimes as long as three months between her periods and when they came she was not able to do her school home lessons because she could not even sit up. A copy of one of your little books was left in my letter-box and she began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for her troubles. She is now in good health, is regular and can help me with the housework when not in school."—Mrs. VICTORIA G. SPIESSERT, 74 Bragdon St., Roxbury, Mass.

Commerce Chamber Work Is Not All Spectacular

Commercial Organization Renders Quiet Service to the Community.

Spectacular accomplishments of the chamber of commerce come to the attention of the public, and if they are plentiful the organization draws fame to itself quickly. Few people realize, however, to what extent the chamber functions in matters which seldom come into the public eye.

Secretary Hugh G. Corbett's mail for one ordinary morning shows what a variety of activities demands attention. A gentleman living near Appleton had $11,000 with which he wanted to engage in a certain kind of business. He sought advice from the chamber of commerce, and Secretary Corbett has written to several places to gain tangible facts upon which a decision could be based. This man might easily become the prey of sharpers, but the chamber is interested enough in his welfare and success to place him in the right field.

Assistance is being given a large business house to find an executive with specialized experience for one of its departments. Correspondence has gone in several directions on this matter.

A proposal has been made that a cold storage plant be located in Appleton. The city may or may not be a good field for such an enterprise. Rather than give unfounded opinions or guess, Mr. Corbett is communicating with men who are an authority on the subject, and is finding that several difficulties must be considered.

A further study of reforestation in Wisconsin is urged in a letter from a Milwaukee newspaper. A large reforestation company asks for a list of Appleton manufacturers.

Letters reach the chamber every day asking for general or special information about Appleton. They are answered in the most complete manner possible, and cooperation is always assured any proposition that might be beneficial to the city.

There was previously no place to which these communications could be addressed and Appleton therefore lost much of the good that might result where business houses were contemplating a location here, or where the city might obtain some valuable outside publicity through the various propositions which come into national prominence.

C. OF C. GETTING MILK LAW FACTS

Ordinances of Other Cities on Pasteurization Are Given Study.

Much light is being thrown on the movement for purer milk here through letters received by the chamber of commerce from cities in Wisconsin and other states. The information will be reviewed by the community welfare committee, which is considering an ordinance to have all milk pasteurized or tuberculin tested. Letters were written by the chamber of commerce to various cities to determine the results of such an ordinance. The committee wanted to find out if these test requirements would increase the price of milk, or band section of the Headquarters company.

This plan retains for national guard troops of Wisconsin the war limit unit designations of the new famous Red Arrow division. It means that the famous record of the Thirty-second division will become traditions to be revered and honored, by off-spring units of the war time division. It is more than pleasing to the Appleton men to be identified with the division to which many former Appleton service men belonged during the World War, some of whom died on famous battle fronts.

This division and the One Hundred-twenty-seventh division will again make up the Sixty-fourth brigade, which is to be commanded by Brig. Gen. Robert B. McCoy, Sturteas.

Headquarters at Neenah

Twenty-fourth company, Neenah, is to be headquarters company of the First Battalion. The battalion also will include the new company D of this city. Company A, Marinette; Company B, Chetek; Company C, Manitowish.

Twenty-fifth company, Oconto, will be headquarters company of the Second Battalion. The former First separate supply company, Oshkosh, is to be service company, and the former ninth regiment band of Appleton is to be attached to this company, as band section of the Headquarters company.

Names of field officers assigned to command the regiments and battalions and of officers to become members of the staff of the fields units are not available, but are to appear in a completed roster expected later. Plans are also on foot to organize a state military basketball tournament, with Lieut. Col. Byron Beveridge, formerly of Appleton, in charge.

WANTS SIGNS ON GREEN BAY ROAD

Appleton Man Says Drivers Should Be Warned of Dangerous Curves.

A prominent Appleton man who drives to Green Bay with his automobile occasionally regards this highway as one of the most dangerous in this locality.

"There are several sharp curves on this highway," he said, "and an autoist is almost upon them before he realizes that a turn must be made. The customary signs which warn drivers in other places of dangerous turns are missing. The curves are visible in the daytime, but there should be some protection to drivers passing through at night."

The business man believes the highway commissioners of the two counties should get together and arrange to place a series of signs ahead of these curves and nagging places calling attention to them.

Many cars were ditched and there were several fatalities on the Green Bay road last summer. The slow and careful driver usually has no trouble, but should a car be going fast it is impossible to slow down sufficiently to negotiate a sudden, sharp curve.

MANY PROBLEMS IN C. OF C. PROGRAM

National Convention Will Urge Cooperation of Government and Public.

Announcement of the program for the ninth annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at Atlantic City April 27 to 29 is contained in a communication received by the Appleton chamber urging that delegates be sent. The theme of the convention will be "In the public interest—More business methods in government; less government management of business."

Speakers are to include government officials and leading business men in many lines of finance, commerce and industry. Much of the convention work will be done in group sessions representing major divisions of business. Some will take up general problems and others specific questions of particular businesses.

The purpose of this method will be to get the fullest and freest discussion on problems of all phases of business. Each industry's representatives will have opportunity to express views.

Some of the topics treated will be wages, contract cancellations, foreign commerce, insurance, government relation to natural resources, transportation, civic development, taxation and tariff.

REBELLION IN STOMACH

"Pape's Diapepsin" at once ends Indigestion and Sour, Acid Stomach

Lumps of undigested food cause pain. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches, belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just take a table or two of Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the pain, acidity, indigestion and distress.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal lunch without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless stomach antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs so little at drug stores.

KENTUCKIAN WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT OIL HERE

Mayor J. A. Hawes received a letter from a Bowling Green, Ky., speculator who said he understood that oil had been struck near Appleton and was anxious to be informed as to the details. In answering the letter which was turned over to him, E. L. Williams, city clerk, stated that the only "strike" he was aware of was a pocket of gas upon which well drillers came in contact on a farm two miles from the city a year ago. The newspaper report published at the time had evidently just reached him.

Physician Explains Who Should Take Nuxated Iron

Practical Advice on How To Help Build Up Great Strength, Energy and Endurance.

"Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental wrecking, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are necessary to success and power in every walk of life," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outside Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. "It may also transform a beautiful, sweet-tempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. I have strongly emphasized the great necessity of physicians making blood examinations of their weak, anemic, run-down patients. Thousands of persons go on year after year suffering from physical weakness and a highly nervous condition due to lack of sufficient iron in their red blood corpuscles without ever realizing the real cause of their trouble. Without iron in your blood your food merely passes through the body something like corn through an old mill with rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind."

"For want of iron you may be an old man at thirty, dull of intellect, poor in memory, nervous, irritable, and all 'run down,' while at 40 or 60 with plenty of iron in your blood you may still be young in feeling, full of life, your whole being brimming over with vim and energy."

But be sure the iron you take is organic iron—Nuxated Iron—and not metallic iron which people usually take. Organic iron—Nuxated Iron—is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron filings and is therefore an entirely different thing from Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such a highly concentrated form that one dose is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen baked apples. It is like taking extracts of food instead of eating pounds of food.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It quickly helps make rich red blood, revitalizes without exhausted nerves and gives increased strength and energy. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if it does not produce satisfactory results.

For sale by all druggists.

HILL INCREASES WEIGHT FOR BOUT WITH GERMAN OAK

Appleton Wrestler Will Weigh About 195 Pounds When
He Goes on Mat.

George Hill will weigh not less than 195 pounds when he goes on the mat with Joe Miller, the "German Oak" of Appleton, Tuesday. Hill has been a devotee of his attention to building up his shoulders and to increasing strength. His road work, however, more strenuous than for many long in order to develop the muscles of his body which will be necessary to increase his weight. When in the ring to weigh 200 pounds, he believes he is in the best of condition and can stand up.

Miller will tip in at about 205 pounds. He is a heavy built man, fast and powerful. He has had more experience on the mat than Hill and has more of the "bad" feel than Hill has. For a long time he was considered one of the most dangerous men on the mat.

A promoter has been started here to bring the match to the town. The match will be the first bout of the season, probably April 15. Fans want a real top notch attraction and the match is among the best in the world. Hill is so good that Frank Cohen, his manager, refused to wrestle him at the present day champs are being put a way to rest.

The Turk weighs about 185 pounds and is as fast as any man in Hill and he would be glad to take him on. Promoter Johnson will be asked to open negotiations with the Turk who is a Chicago man. He arrived in Appleton only a few weeks ago after an extended visit abroad.

Red Odham, George Cunningham, Druess and Avers are veterans who have been going good. Bernie Boland's lame arm is believed to be fully recovered and he is likely to have a big year.

In the youngster line, Middleton, Conkright, Sutherland and Hollings look likely to start. On the infield Low Blue is the real pop merchant. He had down the first sack. He hails from Portland. Pop Young is doped for second. Dave Bush for short and Bobby Jones for third. Bush reported down to weight for the first time in years.

Behind the bat Ty has Johnny Bass, from the Los Angeles club. Clyde Munson, start vet. Eddie Ansmath, an other vet, and Larry Woodall. It'll be a tough job to let anyone of them go. Cobb's outfield with Harry Hedman in right, Bobby Veach in left and him self in center makes a hard hitting trio. This leaves the veterans Shorten and Flansstead as extras.

Pop Is Assured. Like Tris Speaker, Cobb may find himself setting the pace for his team—and as a result, outdoing some of his previous brilliant records. He loves to lead the parade in whatever he's doing. However the Tigers land this year, other teams will know they have been battling with a peppy crew.

WITH THE PLAYERS IN THE SOUTHLAND

By United Press Leased Wire. Shreveport, La.—Frank Baker, once the king sultan of the majors, may have returned to baseball to take a place on the bench of the New York Yankees. Manager Huggins has so many injured stars that Baker may not be able to make a regular place.

Another on Sick List. Mobile—Dave Bancroft joined the sick list of the New York Giants here Tuesday when he underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils. He is expected to be in condition to play in the opening game, however, as are also Frank Frisch and Goldie Hopp.

Grimes Gets Homer. Sacramento, Cal.—The Cubs beat Sacramento here Monday 5 to 2. Grimes' Cub first sacker whanged out a homer to one man on.

Sox Play Elks. Brown Wood, Texas—White Sox regulars play the Elks team of the city Tuesday. Tomorrow they tackle the Fort Worth Texas Rangers at Corsicana.

SPEAKER STANDS PAT ON HIS TEAM OF WORLD CHAMPS

Indians Will Have Five Star
Pitchers Ready to Work
When Season Opens.

BY ROSS TENNY
(Sport editor Cleveland Press)
By United Press Leased Wire. Dallas, Texas.—Tris Speaker is living up to his announced plan of standing pat on the lineup with which the Indians went through the American league last summer and mopped up the Brooklyn Dodgers for the world's title.

Except to move little Joe Sewell up into the fifth place in the batting order, Speaker hasn't varied his lineup in the spring games.

Tris figures on starting the season with five regular hurlers ready to take turns in the box where he had only three last spring—Coveleskie, Ragby and Caldwell. The additional starters are Walter Mails and George Uhlen, both of whom showed great form last fall.

Another place where Tris figures he'll start stronger this year than last is in that left field combination of Jameson and Evans. Against right handers Jameson hit .319 last season and Evans smashed southpaws for .349. Speaker also figures that his other right and left handed shifts with Johnston and Burns split the first base job and Elmer Smith and Joe Wood alternating in right field will help mightily. In fact the only question mark in the lineup when the team started south was the ability of Sewell to smooth out some of the rough spots in his fielding. However, he has followed instructions to be natural instead of always trying to set himself before throwing. He was the hitting sensation of the club in the early games.

Good Looking Rookies. In addition to their "big five" of pitchers the Indians will retain Morison and Clark for chief utility duty and two southpaw remnants will also stick with the club. They are Jess Furt, with Indianapolis last year, and Ted Odswald, a little fellow from Topeka.

The Indians also picked up a sensational young outfield recruit Ernie Jones, a young Texas semi-professional whom Speaker will keep if he continues the form shown in early games.

Speaker isn't claiming the pennant but the Indians figure to be right up there at the chief rivals the White Sox have been added and the Yankees don't seem any stronger than last year when the rest they could do was third. They have lost Derrill Pratt, who was the chief threat in the side game in the early games of the big league, but they have added the tribe last season.

ST. MARY CAGERS WIN FROM ST. JOSEPH GIRLS

St. Mary girls' basketball team defeated St. Joseph girls 15 to 11, in a game in St. Joseph gymnasium Monday afternoon. Miss Evelyn Palmer was the referee.

The lineup was: St. Mary—Carol VanHeuklen, center; Margaret Murphy and Frances Van Euzen, forwards; Louise Murphy and Edna Bloomer, guards.

St. Joseph—Louise Nibbelohdt, center; Jennie Zapp and Olive Gage, forwards; Helen Walters and Viola Gerard, guards.

BIG DEMONSTRATION FOR STATE CHAMPS

High School Students Jubilant
Over Victory in Madison Tournament.

With the state championship crown resting jauntily on their heads Appleton high school basketball players were given a rousing reception by their school mates Tuesday morning. Students were given a full holiday on Monday to get the title exuberance out of their systems before they returned to their studies but their enthusiasm could not be confined Tuesday.

The champs were given a place of honor in the assembly room and every mention of a name was greeted with cheers. Brief talks were given by Coach A. K. Vincent and a few of the players and school leaders. Basketball fans who saw the game in Madison Saturday night are agreed that "the best team" won in spite of the fact that both teams depended largely on long shots for their baskets. Biese's excellent eye for free throwing was a revelation to fans who are not accustomed to seeing high school men develop so keen an eye.

In Madison they still are talking about that Jacobson Roach combination which spelled defeat for three teams. The wonderful way in which

$800,000 OFFER FOR TITLE BOUT

New York.—In the middle of a regular hurricane of rumors about the site for the Dempsey-Carpenter fight, Tex Rickard was still keeping his secret Tuesday.

About half a dozen bidders for the bout were maintaining they had the promise of the impresario and a new entry joined the list in Broken Hills, Nevada, a silver mining town that wired the bout would be worth $800,000 to her.

Something may be known officially Tuesday but that has been expected every day for a week.

John W. Snyder, promoter of Cumberland, Md., who insists he is assured of "second choice," said that Rickard promised to let him know Tuesday how much chance the cool miners had to see the championship fight.

Rickard still maintains that he has not reached a decision. He brands all the stories as pure rumors and he is not fond of all the speculation over the site regardless of all the publicity the show is getting.

those boys worked together was something new in state tournament annals. Both boys were picked for the all state team and Biese was given a place on the second squad. Appleton has more men on the mythical squads than any other team in the tourney.

Is Your Store Commonplace?

Your store may seem commonplace to YOU.

Because you are in it every day.

Folks who live near Niagara Falls fail to find a thrill in the beauty and grandeur of nature's great spectacle.

But your shop is WONDERFULLY FASCINATING to other people.

There is romance in merchandise. There's a clever story which could be told about every article on your shelves, about every day's business.

Try an experiment.

Tomorrow morning go to your place of business as if it was your FIRST DAY on the job.

Try to look at your establishment from the standpoint of a stranger. Get a fresh viewpoint. Then you'll find your enthusiasm growing. You'll thrill to the finger tips.

Is your store commonplace? A thousand times NO! It is teeming with interest. It is alive with romance.

You'll probably find that your enthusiasm will bubble over into newspaper advertising.

An ENTHUSIASTIC merchant simply MUST advertise.

He feels an irresistible impulse to tell the men and women of his community about his store and his service.

And when he gets his enthusiasm "over" to the public, they'll make a path to his door.

Markets

FROST HAS LITTLE AFFECT ON MARKET

By United Press Leased Wire.
Chicago—Frost declined on the Chicago board of trade Tuesday due to reported little damage as a result of the recent frost over the wheat belt. There were liberal offerings but few buyers accepted the opportunity. The market was lower.

March wheat opening up 1c at 64½c, lost 1c in later trading. July corn opened up 1c at 65c, but lost that fraction subsequently.

May oats opened up 1c at 41½c, and dropped 1c later. July oats opened unchanged at 42½c, lost 1c later.

ANOTHER WOMAN IN STILLMAN SCANDAL

Locate Woman Who Preceded Mrs. Leeds as Stillman's Paramour.

New York—The name of the new "other woman" in the James A. Stillman divorce case was expected Tuesday to be revealed within a few hours. Mrs. Stillman came to New York from Lakewood, N. J., late Monday, and had a long conference with her attorneys with regard to this alleged "other woman." It was reported she also visited the woman, who is residing near New York and who is to be ready to testify in her behalf.

This new woman in the case, it was reported, was very friendly with Stillman before the multi-millionaire president of the National City bank met Mrs. Florence H. Leeds, Broadway chorus girl. She had a luxurious apartment in New York and a country place on Long Island.

The proposal to substitute dollars for diplomacy in settling the petroleum dispute had this condition attached:

The British want the United States to recede from its position that Great Britain is maintaining a "closed door" policy in Mesopotamia.

The United Press was informed that the sale offer has been presented unofficially several times but that the whole proposition was presented to two prominent Americans very recently.

The British spokesman being an oil man qualified to handle such an important matter.

Don't Want to Buy
New York—"American oil interests do not want the 'right' to buy into the Mesopotamian oil fields, but they do want the right to conduct explorations there and develop that field the same as in any other independent country," an official of a big American petroleum concern declared Tuesday when informed of the British offer to sell concessions in Mesopotamia.

He said the reported had not yet been officially conveyed to American oil interests.

BRITISH OFFER TO SELL OIL 'RIGHTS'

But American Business Men Want Opportunity to Make Own Developments.

By United Press Leased Wire.
London—Great Britain has offered to sell American interests a substantial portion of the disputed Mesopotamian fields, it was learned from an authoritative source Tuesday.

This fact developed simultaneously with the information that the British government has prepared a "white paper" presenting the side of the controversy to date intended to publish it as soon as the United States grants permission to make public the text of the British answer. February 28 to the American note of Nov. 26.

The proposal to substitute dollars for diplomacy in settling the petroleum dispute had this condition attached:

COORDINATION IS BECOMING PASSION

days than ever before in view of the tendency of governments to regulate the incoming and outgoing cable business by the issuance of cable permits containing provisions that are absolute.

The international conference on communications which has been held here has opened the eyes of government officials to the many abuses to which the American merchant may be subject unless free communication is assured.

The department of state has been handling the international phases of the controversy, but it requires in addition specialists in communication and the moment the wireless is introduced into the discussion, as it inevitably must be, the navy department has jurisdiction, or else the department of commerce if domestic commercial stations are involved.

In Right Mood

Perhaps the most serious situation which the Harding administration is anxious to cure involves the secret service, the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, the inspection service of the post office department, the naval and military intelligence bureaus and other investigating machinery.

At present practically every department has its own system of detecting fraud or violation of law. This means an unhomogeneous group of government investigators operating indiscriminately without general supervision by any one.

It is a fact that the river between the bureaus has heretofore prevented consolidation and in the past the secretary of the treasury who has had jurisdiction over the secret service refused just as emphatically to merge with the department of justice bureaus as did the Attorney General. It has been true of both Republican and Democratic administrations. Mr. Harding's opportunity lies in the fact that his cabinet secretaries are in a receptive state of mind now because they have not become enmeshed as yet in government red tape or internal jealousies. It is a favorable moment for consolidation.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Superior, Wis.—Seven persons were held incommunicado by the Superior police Tuesday in connection with the murder of Mrs. Marie Davies last Wednesday.

All of those under arrest are her friends and acquaintances.

The girl was strangled to death in a candy shop owned by R. L. Casino and the place was robbed.

Police scout the robbery, however, and are holding five men and two women believing jealousy may have been a motive.

Mrs. Davies is known to have been wed three times and was living here with Louis Pontillo, to whom she was said to be "engaged."

Police are trying to trace other reported husbands. She is said to have had six or more.

C. H. Olson, of St. Paul, was brought here by police and is being closely guarded from questioners.

Among those held are two girl friends, Ruth R. Miller and Marie Grey. Pontillo and Casino were among the first arrested and police picked up Joe Hoffish and James Offora who, they said, were seen trying to dispose of some of Mrs. Davies' jewelry an hour after the murder.

POSTAL CLERK HAS LAUGH ON MAN WHO HELD HIM UP

By United Press Leased Wire.
Chicago—"Hands up," coarsely whispered the bold, bad man in the flivver.

Robert Burnett, mail truck driver who was collecting mail on the west side Tuesday, put on his brakes and stopped.

"Throw out those registered mail sacks," continued the bold, bad man. "I crave action."

Burnett threw out two sacks and the bold, bad man went on his way rejoicing.

"But I was only fooling," said Burnett later.
